HIGHLIGHTS

- ▲ (1) Extremely strong loan leading indicators this month, (2) Slight improvement in system GILs, (3) Slight improvement in Islamic FD rates (though Conventional rates remain flattish).
- ▼ (1) ALR continues to compress.
- ► (1) Loan growth remains stable, (2) Deposit growth has normalised once again.
- Maintain POSITIVE call: The banking sector remains in a good place, bolstered by strong fundamentals and growth prospects. Dividend yields are high, and headwinds remain few for now.

Sector Verdict

Bolstered by multiple tailwinds, the banking sector is in a good place. High dividend yields, a recovery in growth prospects, and stable asset quality and topline should imply that sector valuations should continue to appreciate.

Core Themes

1. ▲ Core beneficiary of emerging market inflows, should the narrowing between the OPR-Fed Funds Rate persist (given its dovish stance). Robust earnings, high dividend yields, (relatively) stable asset quality, and the lack of geopolitical/political issues (especially in light of recent regional events) make our banks look particularly attractive.
2. ▲ Dividend outlook is bright. Better clarity on Basel IV implementation and BNM's new capital framework on credit risk has led to the release of excess capital. Multiple banks have either announced special dividends or an intention to raise dividend payout.
3. ▲ NOII to remain core topline driver in the near term. Wealth management, bancassurance, and debt capital markets are common drivers of the fee side – especially as market performance, loan growth, and economic sentiment improve in 2HCY25. We do see more subdued investment income, given the stabilisation of interest rates.
4. ▲ Loan growth has picked up again – particularly on the business end. We have seen a pickup in business loan growth. While retail loans have been growing less popular over the last couple of years, performance remains pretty resilient for now.
5. ► More stability in NIM, but upside is capped. With the steepest compression already behind us, most banks are guiding for stable NIMs – or at least more muted compression. Expect more aggressive loan rebalancing, favouring higher-yielding business loans, making loan yield optimisation a more prominent discourse topic. We are wary that intense deposit competition may return if loan growth should pick up.
6. ► OPEX growth is a mixed bag – tech investments are already bearing fruit. Unfortunately, we still foresee instances of high OPEX growth, especially when several banks are undergoing rapid expansion. Regardless, these banks are often able to balance it off with high topline growth.
7. ► Further recoveries expected – but do watch for potential asset quality issues. Further recoveries are expected (though likely more muted than in 3QCY25), boding well for provision outlook. Tariff impact may have a discernible impact on borrowers' financials by 2HCY26 (as inventory stockpiles need time to deplete). But for now, asset quality doesn't seem too much of an issue.
8. ▼ Expect liquidity to tighten quickly. Multiple banks have commented on the tightening liquidity situation in MY – multiple banks displayed lower liquidity indicators this quarter. We are wary that brighter loan growth prospects in CY26 could dry out liquidity a lot faster than expected.

COMPANY IN FOCUS

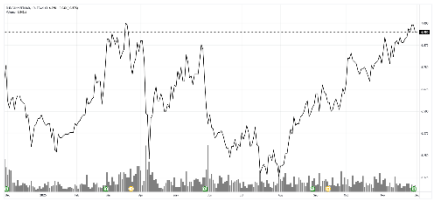
RHB Bank

Maintain BUY | Target Price: RM7.95
Price @ 28 November 2025: RM6.95

- High dividend yields, with the possibility of higher-than-average dividend payout in FY25.
- Recoveries expected in multiple loan categories.
- Good loan recovery, especially in certain higher-yielding segments.

SHARE PRICE CHART



Public Bank

Maintain BUY | Target Price: RM5.05
Price @ 28 November 2025: RM4.35

- Optimism on fee income, particularly unit trust and insurance segments.
- Special dividend payout from LPI's PBK shares disposal and adoption of newer Basel IV regulation – this could lead to a ROE uplift.
- Loan growth recovery in SME segment could lead to a better asset yield profile.

SHARE PRICE CHART

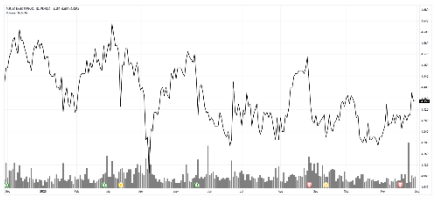


FIG 1: Overview of Major Indicators

Category	Performance	Notes
Loans	► System loans: +5.4%yoy | +0.5%mom ► Retail loans: +5.4%yoy | +0.5%mom ▲ Business loans: +5.2%yoy | +0.6%mom ▲ SME loans (Oct-25): +8.7%yoy | +0.7%mom	Total loan growth remains fairly consistent with that of previous months. Retail loans saw a weakening once again (at least, on a sequential year basis), while business loans continue its strong streak. This is in line with what banks have been guiding for: A stronger non-retail pipeline in 2HCY25.
Leading Indicators	▲ System: Strong month Approval rates: 54% ▲ SME (Oct-25): Strong month SME Approval rates: 55%	Both applications and approvals saw an extremely strong month. There was a notable step-up in working capital – a trend we have noticed over the last couple of months. As a form of business loan, SME loan indicators were also very strong.
Deposits	► Deposits + repos: +3.7%yoy | 0.0%mom ► Deposits (ex-repos): +4.9%yoy | +0.2%mom ▲ FD: +2.5%yoy | +1.5%mom ▼ CASA: +7.0%yoy | -1.1%mom Loan/Deposit ratio: 92.7% Loan Coverage ratio: 148%	After last month's CASA surge, things seem to have normalised: Businesses are turning back to FDs once again.
GIL ratio	▲ System GIL ratio: 1.39% | -2bps mom ► Retail: 1.11% | 0bps mom ▲ Business: 1.73% | -4bps mom ► SME GIL ratio (Oct-25): 2.95% | -1bps mom	▼ Notable deteriorations, mom: Personal financing +4bps ▲ Notable improvements, mom: Working cap -7bps, Construction -3bps.
Interest rates	► FD rates (Conv): Flattish ▲ FD rates (Isl): Decline in some brackets ▼ Lending rates (ALR): -6bps mom	The rates provided by BNM are not necessarily the same promo rates that get offered during deposit campaigns. Hence, the figures provided are not a good indication of the severity of year-end deposit competition.

Maintain POSITIVE call. (Our comprehensive list of sector drivers is on the first page).

Top downside risks include:

1. Weak economic outlook causing slower loan and topline growth.
2. Asset quality concerns.
3. Industry-wide NIM compression.

Top Picks: RHB Bank (BUY, TP: RM7.95) and Public Bank (BUY, TP: RM5.05).
